Claudette's captivating, high-energy performances transport audiences back in time as RELENTLESS BAND blends musicianship, creativity and tradition. She's a "bottomless barrel of musical ear candy" in the words of one eloquent fan. People tell her time and time again that they loved dancing and singing along. Claudette was formerly the female lead in South Florida's earl Band and Party Express, as well as the bandleader and lead singer for Quik Fix Band from 2007-2015 in Chesapeake, Virginia. Claudette can belt out everything from sweet power ballads to classic rock legends like Heart, Pat Benatar, Stevie Nicks and even male rockers like Led Zeppelin, Journey and U2. She knows how to "work the room" and will leave you wanting more.

John Prout was born on Long Island, and raised in Ct. He began his journey into the world of music in high school, after watching his best friend performing in bands at school mixers, and a trip to the guitar store soon followed. A few years later, in college, he started "The Exchange", an all-alumni rock band at Roger Williams College and it all began to come together. In 1983, The Exchange opened a Spring Weekend show for Stevie Ray Vaughn and Double Trouble.

After entering the working world and beginning his career with the phone company, there were numerous projects as the years ticked by, until the band "Ransom" was formed, a rock and roll 3-piece with a tremendous female lead vocalist. That band rocked Ct for 10 years before a move to South Florida brought that era to an end. There were however numerous "reunion" gigs in Ct.

After playing for 4 years with very popular regional act Classic Rock Therapy, his desire to return to the "female-lead" style band took him on a different path. Then, the opportunity be a part in the start of Relentless was there, and John is ready to rock South Florida with the awesome and talented musicians of Relentless.

Eleni Skiba is a seasoned musician with over 35 years of musical experience and has stepped up with some of South Florida's best bands over the years. She is a passionate artist, songwriter and an accomplished instrumentalist. Originally from Philadelphia, South Florida has been her home base since 1989 and Eleni has a storied history of live performances, musical arrangements, and professional recording sessions. Eleni's energetic rhythm provides anchor and vibe, along with soulful melodic harmonies that perfectly complements any vocalist. She has been associated with The Samantha Russell Band, Nashville Recording Artist, American Idol Season 14 & 15 Alumna and Top 24 Finalist, Emily Brooke and Emerging Americana and Recording Artist, Jodi Gaines. Eleni is a touring musician, and has performed at many landmark festivals and venues such as The Listening Room and Bridgestone Arena during CMA Fest in Nashville, TN, Pennysaver Amphitheater (The Fest 96.1 FM) in Long Island, New York, 103.1 WIRK Rib Round Up Festival at Coral Sky Amphitheater in West Palm Beach, FL, Bands, Brews and BBQ Festival at Sea World/Orlando, FL, and The Grey Eagle in Asheville, North Carolina, in addition to many well-known local South Florida hotspots. Eleni has shared the stage supporting her artists with Old Dominion, Kelsea Ballerini, Dustin Lynch, Charles Kelley (Lady A), Chicago, Keb' Mo' and several other National Recording Artists. During her tenure with the various bands, Eleni has won numerous awards with South Florida Country Music for Best Local Band. She is the latest addition as the Rhythm Guitarist/Keyboardist/Backup Vocalist of Relentless Band, South Florida's newest premier high-octane dynamic Rock and Roll Band, led by veteran powerhouse vocalist Claudette Roccapiore! She is thrilled and excited for the opportunity to collaborate and make great music with the experienced professionals of this Supergroup!

After a 20 year hiatus from the drums, in 2000 Brad picked the sticks back up and started performing again at local jam nights. After a few years of local jam nights, Brad was noticed by local peers for his solid timing, hard hitting style, and not overplaying of drum fills and was invited to join a local house band as the weekly jam night drummer. Brad was asked to join a new band called 3 Legged Dog, and was soon playing around the south Florida scene. The band was expanded by adding an amazing female vocalist Claudette, who is the fronting vocalist today with the new band Relentless. Through the years Brad played with bands such as Vanity Killz, Afterhours, Can't Explain, Spin Dizzy, and Better Daze. Brad has also appeared with The earl Band, Slight shot Mafia, and Latitude 26. Influences include Buddy Rich, Keith Moon and John Bonham

Bill Lee brings his relentless hard charging bass style to Relentless Band for his life's next chapter. Bill started his music career with "Wrath" a contemporary hard rocking band in Chicago in the 1970's. After a hiatus to start a software engineering career Bill was asked to join "NightWing", an established and popular Rock and Roll quintet, frequently featured at the major venues in the Fox Valley region of Northern Illinois and house band to a number of venues. "NightWing" recorded the original song "Magic Man" in 1983 which achieved limited success in the Midwest. Moving to Florida in 1985 Bill pursued an engineering career in the US and abroad but was called back to music joining a reenergized "earl" briefly from 2004 to 2007 for the "Four Weekends" album and associated dates before moving overseas. Upon his return from overseas and winding down in engineering Bill rejoined "earl" and shortly thereafter the new energized "earl Trio" was founded. "earl Trio" became the earl Band in 2014 and for the next 5 years graced some of the premier nightclub and festival stages from Tampa to Fort Lauderdale. During this time Bill also served as the touring bassist for highly successful Americana act 33 years, crisscrossing Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and western and central Florida. Bill gives Relentless Band the drive and rhythm to back up the very best vocal band bar none.
